

the good effects of this change appear to him too obvious to require any proof of its advantages.

But it is not the duty of the subscriber to direct, and he hopes that he will be forgiven if he has been too free in giving his private opinions. And the Board may rely upon the subscriber's best endeavours to execute any plan they may think proper to adopt.

Your obedient servant,

T. RANDOLPH, Teacher
Of the Male Public School, Fell's Point.

JACOB SMALL, Esq. Chairman
Of the School Commissioners.

(C)

DECEMBRE, 17th 1829.

SIR,

At the instance of William Hubbard, Esq. the subscriber respectfully lays before you the following facts relative to the Female Public School, under her superintendence. The school commenced the 28th of last September, and by the middle of November, she admitted twenty-three pupils, and received twenty-three dollars.

She has also received on ticket from William Hubbard, Esq. eight others. Since November 16th, she has admitted three more until New Year's, and received for them $1 50. She has therefore received thirty-four pupils, for which she has received $24 50.

The school is divided into six classes. The first class is learning the alphabet and spelling; the second class spell and begin to read; the third class spell and read; the fourth and fifth classes read, define words and write on slates; the sixth class read, write on paper, cypher, and study grammar.

All these have made considerable progress in their studies, and the subscriber has only to regret being so considerable a charge to the corporation. But if assiduity will lessen the charge, she will use her best endeavours to make the charge less. All which is most respectfully submitted by

Your Obedient Servant,

HARRIET D. RANDOLPH.

JACOB SMALL, Esq. Chairman

Of the School Committee.